

Science fiction story extracts...

Then all of a sudden Jack stumbled upon a secret passage so he decided to tip toed in to see what it was all about.

Jack walked down the secret passage way and the scary trees hung over him, whispering to him in the wind.

“Your going the wrong way, turn back Jack”, they said.

There Jack saw a huge floating vehicle, at first he thought it was a car but he soon realised it was a space ship. Jack was about to turn back and go home when a shadow crept up behind him and covered his head with a sack. He could see nothing but darkness...

Now we had to break the bars, which was made out of ruby, to get out. We tried and tried and then they actually broke it was a miracle. We saw a present and it said the way to get out of the endless prison. "What is it?" said Anthony.

"It's a blue stone" I explained to Anthony. Maybe it could teleport us home or at least out of the endless prison. It had something carved in the blue stone...

"Prame wake up, come on. Wake up now!"

"Okay I'm awake!" It was 259 in the morning which is quite early. "What is it?" I asked Tobias in a moany voice

"It's Maxemus he's called for everyone to go to The Square Hall immediately and it might be something important so let's get moving!" So I got changed, put my Acute Chronometer on my wrist and rushed off to The Square.

When I finally got there it was packed and I wasn't sure where to go to get a good view of Maxemus so I could hear him well until I heard a faint voice in the crowd calling my name. It said "Prame! Over here Prame!" It took a while until I noticed who it was...
