1. Mission statement

Fordeŋ CiW School is committed to providing a full and efficient education to all learners and embraces the concept of equal opportunities for all.

We will provide an environment where all learners feel valued and welcomed and are committed to the fundamental principle that early intervention and partnership working is crucial in ensuring the attendance, protection and wellbeing of all children.

The school will follow the Wales Safeguarding Procedures, *Belonging, engaging and participating*¹ and local protocols in relation to specific and identifiable wellbeing issues that prevent a child from accessing education, or where there are safeguarding concerns.

As outlined in Belonging, engaging and participating, 'attendance cannot be considered in isolation. The many interrelated and overlapping causes of absence and the varied nature of the learner experience in school, the community and at home mean that whole school strategies and strong multi-agency working arrangements are needed, designed to support all learners.'²

The school will review this policy and its systems for improving attendance and the whole school approach for promoting strong attendance and a positive learning environment on an annual basis to ensure that it is in line with national and local guidance, school priorities and effectively supports learners to access education.

2. Promoting attendance

The foundation for good attendance is a strong partnership between the school, parents, carers and learners as outlined in *Belonging, engaging and participating*³, the Welsh Government guidance on improving learner engagement and attendance.

'Improving attendance requires a whole-school and whole-system approach'⁴, where 'learner engagement and improving attendance is a continuous process that begins with developing trusting relationships between school staff and learners'⁵.

We will:

- ensure that our learners are aware of the importance of good attendance and how this will benefit them, both now and in the future

- use a variety of strategies to intervene at an early stage to encourage improved attendance of individual learners and assist to overcome any barriers that may be preventing the expected level of attendance. These strategies may be school-based, or may be implemented jointly with other partners to ensure the most appropriate support for the individual and their family.

3. Roles and responsibilities

To support a learner effectively, it is important to establish close working relationships between families, learners, schools, the local authority and other professionals.

A key part of any successful working relationship is a clear understanding of each person's role and responsibilities. The following section clarifies the roles and responsibilities for those people engaged in supporting learner attendance.

The Parent / Carer

Parents / carers are responsible for ensuring that their child attends full-time education that is suitable to their child's age, ability and aptitude and to any additional learning needs (ALN) that the child may have.

Parents / carers are also responsible for ensuring that their child attends school on time; this is a legal requirement. We understand that sometimes there are situations at home that may make it difficult for a learner to arrive on time, it is important that parents / carers let us know should such a circumstance arise.

School starts at 8:50am and finishes at 3:15pm.

The School

Schools have a range of responsibilities in respect of attendance. The school will:

- Take an attendance register twice a day; at the start of the morning session and once during the afternoon session.
- Monitor individual attendance rates daily to identify any emerging trends and possible safeguarding concerns.
- Use their interventions to improve individual learner attendance.
- Have 'eyes on' a learner who has been absent from school for more than five school days. This includes undertaking home visits where contact is not possible at school or in the community. However, if the absence is due to an authorised Holiday, or an illness where the pupils has been seen by other professionals, then the 'eyes on' approach is not deemed appropriate.
- Make a referral to the Education Welfare Service for support, advice and guidance when the school has exhausted all other reasonable methods.

Attendance Lead

The school's leadership team (SLT) will be responsible for the strategic management of attendance across the school. SLT will:

- Gather and scrutinise attendance data through termly analysis;
- Monitor trends and patterns across cohort of learners, termly;
- Identify individuals or groups requiring interventions;
- Inform the Designated Safeguarding Person that if a learner/s on the child protection register is absent from school; this must be on the first day of absence.
- Direct resources for the best possible outcomes;
- Coordinate and monitor interventions;
- Evaluate interventions for their impact and effectiveness;
- Amend and revise the school's approaches.

Class teachers

Class teachers will:

- Be responsible for completing the morning and afternoon registers fully and accurately;
- Record any details known to them about reasons for absence (in absence book in office);
- Hold informal 'return to school' discussions with learners after periods of absence to ascertain the reason and to understand if there are any barriers to the pupil fully engaging in their education or if they require any additional support.

Attendance Administrator

School administrator will:

- Follow up on any unmarked registers;
- Escalate concerns about registers to SLT;
- Undertake first day calling every day for a learner whose family has not made contact; collate and log any supporting evidence;
- Flag any first-day absences of learners on the child protection register with the designated safeguarding person;
- Flag any first-day absences of learners who are children looked after with the designated teacher for children looked after;

Designated Safeguarding Person

Designated Safeguarding Person (DSP) will:

- Ensure that social workers for learners on the child protection register are informed of any absences on the first day of absence.

Designated Teacher for Children Looked After

Designated teacher for Children Looked After (CLA) will:

- Ensure that the designated Social Worker for learners who are looked after are informed of any absences on the first day of absence.
- Ensure that the home authority's virtual school / looked after children education coordinator are kept informed of the attendance of children looked after in the school.

Headteacher

The Headteacher will:

- Make the final decision on coding, including authorisation or not of holidays.

4. School procedures

Any learner who is absent from school at the morning or afternoon registration period will have their absence recorded as being authorised, unauthorised or as an approved educational activity (attendance out of school). Only the headteacher, or a member of staff acting on their behalf, can authorise absence.

Registration coding is in line with the Welsh Government guidance on school attendance codes⁶.

4.1 Punctuality

Morning registration will take place at the start of school at 8:50am. The registers will remain open for a maximum of 30 minutes from this start time, in accordance with Welsh Government guidance.

Learners arriving after the start of school but before the end of the 30-minute registration period will be coded as late (L code). Any pupil arriving after this time will be marked as having an unauthorised absence (U code) unless there is an acceptable explanation i.e. school transport was delayed. In addition, where the absence at registration was for attending an early morning medical appointment, the appropriate authorised absence code will be entered (M code).

Afternoon registration in Teacher Centre will be completed before 3:00pm.

The Headteacher will follow-up on lateness with the parent/carer with a face-to-face meeting. If a learner is persistently late, the Headteacher will hold a formal meeting with the parents.

4.2 Dual Registration

Where a learner attends another school, the Pupil Referral Unit or receives medical tuition, they will be dual registered with both the school and the other provider. The main school will be whichever the child attends for more than 50% of their time. The other will be the subsidiary.

Both schools or provisions must maintain an accurate register. The school will liaise with the other education provider on a daily basis in order to identify learners who are absent and mark the register accordingly.

If the learner attends, the education provider where they attend will mark them as present (/ or \ code) and the school will mark the register with a D code (which counts as present). If they are absent, the education provider and the school will both mark the register with the appropriate absence code.

4.3 First day absence

Parents and carers are reminded that they should contact the school by 9:00am if their child is not able to attend school on that day. Parents and carers must state the full reason for the child's non-attendance (not just "feeling unwell") and indicate the likely date they will return to school. Parents and carers should be prepared for the members of school staff to ask questions about the pupil's condition and any treatment they may be receiving.

If a parent or carer does not contact the school, staff will try to find out the specific reason for non-attendance as soon as possible on the first day of absence by telephone. If there is no response, an email may be sent, depending on the circumstances. Once the specific information is received, the register will be amended to reflect the appropriate absence code (see Appendix 1 for the types of code).

If no appropriate reason is given for the absence, the absence will be recorded as unauthorised (O code).

4.4 Absence – supporting evidence

Supporting evidence or communication received from parents / carers explaining the reason for the absence will be recorded in the absence book and / or kept on file.

Parents and carers should be made aware that only the headteacher (or an appropriately delegated member of the SLT) can authorise an absence. Further information (such as a letter from a GP or consultant) may be required to support reasons given for absence.

4.5 Persistent and severe absence

The school will work proactively identify emerging persistent absence. Where a pattern begins to develop, the school will meet with the parents prior to seeking advice / making a referral to EWO.

The Welsh Government defines persistent absence as below 90%.

The local authority defines severe persistent absence as below 50%.

The use of the terms persistent and severe absence helps to clearly define the difference between those learners who are occasionally absent and those learners who are seen in school far less frequently. This supports schools to target interventions and responses effectively as well as understand where safeguarding risks may be heightened.

4.6 Medical and illness absences

Where a learner requires a routine medical appointment (such as a dentist appointment), these should be made outside of the school day. If this is not possible, a copy of the appointment letter may be requested by the school and should be provided ahead of the appointment date. The parent / carer should try to ensure that the learner attends school some of the day, where possible.

If a learner is repeatedly absent due to illness, the school may request supporting evidence that the learner is receiving the necessary medical treatment. An appointment card, consultant letter, photograph of prescription medication, would all suffice as medical evidence. Without the necessary evidence, the school may notify the parent or carer that all future absences will be unauthorised until the necessary medical evidence has been provided, and a referral to the Education Welfare Service may be made.

In addition, some learners may require additional provision and support where their known medical needs have a long-term and persistent impact on their attendance⁷. Examples could include, but are not limited to:

- Recuperation following a hospital stay or operation;
- A longer period of illness (such as glandular fever);
- Conditions for which regular appointments or treatments are unavoidable (such as kidney dialysis, chemotherapy, radiotherapy).

The school will provide appropriate support on a case-by-case basis. This may include seeking additional advice, guidance, support or provision from the local authority.

4.7 Holidays

Holidays during term time should be avoided as any absence can have an impact on learning.

Parents / carers should apply in advance to take holidays in term time: the fact that holiday has been booked does not automatically give permission. If the headteacher doesn't agree and the family goes anyway, it's an unauthorised absence. The headteacher is not obliged to authorise holiday absence, and there is no minimum entitlement of holiday absence.

⁷ Supporting learners with health care needs, Welsh Government, 2018, <https://www.gov.wales/supporting-learners-healthcare-needs-0#:~:text=Guidance%20for%20local%20authorities%20and%20schools%20on%20how%20to%20help>, accessed on 26.09.24

The headteacher has the discretion to authorise absences for up to 10 days in a school year. Part of the decision-making process will include a review of the learner's absences to date. If a learner is away for longer than agreed, the period outside the agreed dates will be an unauthorised absence. There is no right to appeal: the decision of the headteacher is final.

Should a family wish to submit a request for their child to be absent from school for the purposes of a holiday, they should email the Headteacher specifying the dates, and the reason the holiday is requested in termtime.

The family will be notified of the outcome of the request via email from the Headteacher.

Parents and carers are advised that a fixed penalty notice may be issued by the local authority when permission for a holiday or leave of absence has not been authorised by the school. The local authority's Code of Conduct for issuing Fixed Penalty Notices can be obtained from the school, the local authority's website or the Education Welfare Service.

5. Attendance initiatives and multi-agency working

The school will raise the awareness of school attendance, promote good attendance and tackle unauthorised absence.

The school will work with other agencies, including the local authority, on general school attendance matters. Additionally, the school will seek advice and guidance from, and make referrals to, appropriate agencies to support individual learners.

The school will work closely with our local preschool providers to support transition. The reception class teacher will visit Forden Playgroup to meet the children and there will be up to 5 opportunities for pre-school children to attend sessions in school during the summer term before their admission.

The Education Welfare Service (EWS)

'The EWS is committed to the fundamental principle, that early intervention strategies and partnership working, is crucial in ensuring the protection and wellbeing of all children and young people.'⁸

Sometimes it will be necessary for the school to contact the EWS about an individual learner to seek advice, guidance and support to improve their attendance. This may involve the Education Welfare Officer (EWO) contacting the family and / or making a home visit. Parents / carers, and the learner where appropriate, may also be invited to a meeting with the school and the Education Welfare Officer.

Other agencies that the school works with include:

- Early Help

- Educational Psychology Service (in cases of Emotionally-Based School Avoidance)

6. Reintegration following absence

The school will welcome back all learners on return from an absence. This will include ensuring that the learner is helped to catch up on missed work and brought up to date on any information that has been passed to the other learners.

If the learner has been absent for a considerable period of time, the school will meet with the pupil and their parents/carers to ensure that they are well supported with the transition back to school. In some cases, a reintegration plan will be introduced tailored to the needs of the individual.

7. Fixed Penalty Notices for non-attendance at school

The school may, in line with the local authority's Code of Conduct, request the local authority to issue a fixed penalty notices where a parent/carer has failed to secure their child's regular attendance at school.

8. Retention of records

The school will make paper copies of the register at least once a month.

Attendance regulations stipulate that attendance records should be retained for at least three years.

9. Attendance targets

A system for analysing performance towards the targets has been established and the headteacher is responsible for overseeing this work. The school and Governing body will make use of the attendance data available from the local authority when reviewing its targets.

The head teacher will present the attendance data in each of the termly reports to the Governing body for the figures to be scrutinised against the attainment data. The Governors will have the opportunity to challenge the data alongside the practices for managing attendance, in order to tackle the overall absence rates across the school and within specific cohorts of learners.

The school's attendance target is 93%
