Department of Curriculum

Croeso nôl to the Department of Curriculum. This year we have a busy year ahead of us making sure that we are all familiar with the new Curriculum for Wales, ready for September 2022. The new curriculum has four purposes that are the shared vision and aspiration for every child and young person. The four purposes are

- ambitious, capable learners
- ethical, informed citizens
- healthy, confident individuals and
- enterprising, creative contributors.

We have decided to focus on one of these four purposes every half term and worked with the Department of Communication to launch 'ambitious, capable learners' during the Children's Book Week. In the KS2 assembly our cabinet members, Kayla and Nooriya talked about what it is to be an ambitious, capable learner, whilst the Foundation Phase pupils are learning about it through their daily activities. We have opportunities every day to reflect on our learning and identify how we are becoming ambitious, capable learners, who are ready to learn throughout our lives. The attached QR code shows a video of some of the pupils at Mary Immaculate showing how they are becoming ambitious and capable learners.

We have also launched a competition for the logo for the ethical, informed citizen purpose. We have already had a number of entries and the closing date to enter will be Monday 22nd November 2022.

Marvellous Movers

Curious & Active

This half-term we will be focusing on the Catholic Pupil Profile Virtues:

Curious and active

Do you have the gift of speaking?

Then speak as though God himself were speaking through you.

Do you have the gift of helping others?

Do it with all the strength and energy that God supplies.

1 Peter 4:11

Curious about everything in our world and trying to learn and gain as much knowledge as we can;
Active in our engagement with the world, changing what we can for the better, being active in the life of the school, the Church, and the wider community.

British Landscape Podcast

Podcasts are a popular way for people to listen to audio content. They are a series of episodes that can be downloaded, streamed or listened to through apps. Often, people use their mobile phones so they can listen to their favourite podcasts on the go, using headphones or in the car. Recently, a podcast, which lets listeners tune in to sounds of the British landscape, has become a success. The podcast, Radio Lento, was created 18 months ago by parents, Hugh Huddy and Madeleine Sugden. Each episode lasts between 15 and 90 minutes and features the sounds of the landscape – no music or talking. Madeleine said: 'We've covered approximately 400 miles on foot in search of places to record, not the usual chocolate box places, but ones with interesting sounds, such as Spaghetti Junction and industrial locations. For us, it is about finding and sharing beauty from everyday places.' Radio Lento will soon hit 115,000 downloads, with many people being inspired to listen to the landscape not just look!

Record Breaking Balloonist

A 28-year-old Frenchman has broken the world record for standing on top of a hot air balloon at altitude. Rémi Ouvrard stood on top of the balloon at a height of more than 3,637m (two and a quarter miles) over Chatellerault, in the west of France. The balloon was operated by Rémi's father, Jean-Daniel Ouvrard. Rémi Ouvrard said that there was: 'good wind direction, good light, good speed. Perfect conditions to make this flight.' The stunt was for France's annual Telethon, which is a charity campaign raising money for research into rare neuromuscular diseases. The altitude chosen was not random, it was selected as it matches the phone number digits of the Telethon campaign, 36-37.

Hundreds Hop Onto Bike Bus

Every Friday morning in the Eixample district, Barcelona, hundreds of people travel to school together on a very special bus, the Bicibus or Bike Bus! There are three stops along the way where parents and children are welcome to join with their bikes, scooters or roller blades. The Bicibus all started when five families started cycling to school together in support of bike lanes and safer, quieter roads. Mireia Boix, a parent of a 5-year-old son, who takes the Bicibus, said: 'Bicycles are a means of transportation and if a 5-year-old can ride a bike to school it means that everyone else could. If the population uses their bikes, there will be a healthier, quieter and overall better city to live in.' The Bicibus route takes 25 minutes and travels down the busy Entença Street, where three schools are located. As it grew, it acquired its own police escort.

Your thoughts on last week's news...

Humans have hunted too many animals into extinction, we must act to help elephants now before they are another species we lose forever.
Morella – age 10

Elephants need tusks to keep them safe.

Elephants are great animals and should be protected. Some people do the wrong thing by hunting them down I do not think this is a good idea. Protect our beautiful animals
